

Priest's House Museum Trust, Trustee Vacancy

The Priest's House Museum Trust runs the Museum of East Dorset; an award-winning independent museum located in Wimborne Minster. The Trust's mission for 2026 - 2029 is to use the museum, its collections, people and resources to create positive experiences for diverse audiences, and within the local community, balancing sustainability with inclusion.

We are seeking Trustees who share a passion for our mission and can help shape the museum's future. Trustees act as ambassadors for the museum. Their role is non-executive, although some of our Trustees are involved within the museum as volunteers.

This is a good opportunity for professional development in the voluntary sector and is suitable for those who have not previously served as Trustees. We welcome applications from all ages and backgrounds and would be interested to hear from those with previous experience in the heritage/education/community space who can bring us new ideas and perspectives.

Induction and access to appropriate on-line training will be provided.

Trustees are expected to attend four formal Board meetings a year, usually on a Friday morning. Time is also needed to prepare for meetings, and to attend sub-committees or be involved in special projects. The Annual General Meeting takes place during December.

For more information on the Priest's House Museum Trust, and to view the latest Annual Report, go to <https://museumofeastdorset.co.uk/the-trust/>

For more information on the position, contact Jonathan Greenwood on 01202 888163.

Or send your letter of application and short CV to director@museumofeastdorset.co.uk

The closing date for applications is 19th December 2025.

